

Terms to use SuperLive

1. General

This agreement is concluded with IC Control Media and Sport AB, org. 556716–2507, hereinafter referred to as ICCMS and the organizer. ICCMS provides a live and web TV service called SuperLive. This means that ICCMS provides the ability to stream video material on the Internet. The service is available to sports clubs. These terms and conditions govern the use of ICCMS's Superlive service. The agreement applies between a customer who ordered the SuperLive service and ICCMS. The maximum length of a competition session to be livestreamed is 6 hours.

2. Safety and privacy

ICCMS strives to ensure that the services provided are as secure as possible. This means that ICCMS may need to take steps to restrict access to all or part of the services provided if this is necessary to maintain security. It is not permitted to upload malicious software or material that violates Swedish law. Furthermore, ICCMS reserves the right not to allow materials that may harm the company's, customers 'or third parties' security or good reputation.

3. Rights to the material

The customer guarantees that he has the right to use the material that he uploads and publishes on ICCMS systems. This means that the customer is responsible for ensuring that the material does not infringe on someone else's copyright or Swedish law. The customer is responsible for other necessary permits for the content of the broadcast in Superlive.

ICCMS offers free replays for one week from broadcast, after which viewers with subscription can see the replays that the organizer has uploaded with the SuperLive service. To enable it, the organizer grants ICCMS a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free and transferable license to use the Content (including reproducing, distributing, modifying, displaying and performing it).

4. Use of SuperLive

The Superlive program that is downloaded may only be used to be displayed on www.livetiming.se